OUTLINES.

Admiral Dewey will sail from Washington today on the Dolphin for Portsmouth, N. H., where he will attend the dedication exercises of a bronze tablet to Rear Admiral Farragut——The Government's petition for a rehearing of the case against the Standard Oil Company, of Indiana, in the United States Court of Appeals was filed in Chicago yesterday. This is an effort for a re-hearing of the case in which Judge Landis administered the famous fine of $29,240,000——O. D. Earl, of Merrillon, Ark., has received from the treasury department in Washington $975 for $1,000 in decayed money which he buried, fearing that the banks were unsafe——The civic rule has again been restored at Springfield and the city was free from disorders last night——Mr. Bryan has accepted the invitation to speak at the Macon (Ga.) Fair Association, September 14th——Mr. Bryan made his first campaign speech at Des Moines yesterday. His subject was the tariff. After this speech he addressed an overflow meeting, speaking chiefly on the election of Senators by the people ——Candidate Taft addressed a large gathering of Republicans in Virginia yesterday and afterward he and Mrs. Taft held a reception, shaking hands with those present for a half hour——A catcher of the Washington American baseball league wins a $500 bet by catching a regulation baseball dropped from the top of the Washington manument——The grand jury at Springfield, Ill., has found more indictments against rioters. In the small towns in the neighborhood there is considerable uneasiness and excitement. In one a notice has been posted ordering all negroes to leave. There is also unrest in the adjacent mining districts——New York markets: Spot cotton closed 10 points decline, middling uplands 10, middling gulf 10.25. Flour firm, but quiet. Wheat barely steady, No. 2 red 1.00 1-8 to 1.00 3-8 elevator, options 1-4 to 3-8 net lower. Corn steady, No. 2, 90 nominal elevator, options 1-8 to 3-8c net higher. Oats firmer, mixed 52 1-2. Rosin quiet Turpentine quiet. Money on call easy 3-4 to 1 per cent, ruling rate 1, closing bid 1, offered at 1, time loans easier.

Is it right to tax the depositors of a bank honestly conducted to "make good" to those who put faith in a dishonest official of some other bank?

The Republicans continue to hang around Hot Springs. That's not going to help them get up enough "hot stuff" to run Taft through.

The Star is in receipt of the Democratic National campaign song-book. As the "musical" editor of this paper is off on his annual vacation its merits cannot be written up at this time.

The Durham Herald remarks that many towns in the State may have suffered pecuniary loss by the cutting off of the liquor licenses but that Raleigh is the only one that has made a fuss about it.

Murder is murder, and most persons who take life in the State of New York find that to be the case. That is one State where social standing does not count when it comes to getting out of a deliberate murder.

Southport is getting ready for the thirty-foot channel in the Cape Fear. She is going to spend $5,000 on street improvements. You can always count on our neighbor down the river doing the right thing.

Next Wednesday is the day for the State Republican convention in Charlotte. Folks can look for something to happen at that time. After that convention adjourns the people will be able to calculate just how the two parties stand.

Wonder if the courts these days would entertain the plea of self-defense in an indictment of a person as accessory before the fact to a murder. Thornton Hains will have to rely on that plea unless he is willing to put himself in Harry Thaw's place.

So long as such outrageous mob violence against innocent and law-abiding negroes is allowed as has been going on in Springfield, Ill., the mouths of the Yankees are closed as to occasional lynchings of persons in this section who are guilty of infamous crimes.

We believe his Satanic Majesty would kick at the torridity of the temperature of the present time. The thermometer in his principality, no doubt would go higher, but, because of the great humidity here, the conditions there could hardly be worse.

We suggest to the Democratic National committee a splendid way of raising campaign funds: Let the committee put up a purse, to go to the man who can ride the Bryan trick mule, and charge admission to the performance. That would be a drawing card.

BAD WASHOUTS ON A. & Y.

Passenger Train From Mt. Airy Held at Mints Last Night on Account of Dangerous Condition of Track—Passengers.

Traffic on the A. & Y. road was tied up last night, due to the heavy rains of yesterday and the day before, resulting in several bad washouts between Roseboro and Parkersburg. The passenger train from Mt. Airy, due here at 8:15 o'clock in the evening, was held at Mints last night, the track between Mints and Parkersburg being such that no trains could be operated over it. The washouts are some distance apart.

It was considered unsafe to attempt to run a train from here to the scene of the washout last night, but as soon as day breaks this morning a thorough examination of the extent of the damage will be made and a force of hands put to work repairing the track.

The office here had been advised of the washouts and ordered the Mt. Airy train held at Mints. The passengers were provided with supper and were made as comfortable as possible over night.

The train will probably arrive some time this morning, but this can not be started for certain as the extent of the damage to the track is yet unknown by the officials here.

BAY STATE TEAM CHAMPIONS

Won The Regimental Shoot Yesterday For Third Successive Year.
(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Camp Perry, Aug. 21.—The regimental championship Rifle shoot of the United States, held under the auspices of the National Rifle Association was won today for the third successive year by the Sixth Regiment of Massachusetts. By winning for three years, the Massachusetts is entitled to permanent possession of the $500 trophy. The mass team made a score of 769 and was awarded the silver medal.

Today's contest was for the 1,000 yard stage of the regimental championship which had been continued from last Tuesday and concluded the events scheduled in the National Rifle Association's tournament. The final stages of the shoot for the Herrick prize which also was a continued event held under the auspices of the Ohio Rifle Association and open to all was shot today. First place was taken by the United States marine corps with a total score of 1,647. The Pennsylvania team was second with a score of 1,643, and Ohio's first team was third with 1,643.

The service revolver match, held by the Ohio Association was won by the United States cavalry by a total score of 821.

These events concluded all of the preliminary shooting incident to the contests to be held under the auspices of the United States army which will begin next week. Consequently the range was turned over today to Lieutenant Colonel R. K. Evans, of the general staff United States Army. Fifty-one teams have been entered in this contest representing the army, navy marine corps, military and naval academies and the National guard of all the States and territories of the United States excepting three—Nevada, Idaho and Florida. There will be individual and team matches for the congressional trophy, Mars, the Hilton trophy and the famous soldier of marathon prize. There also will be cash prizes which are offered by Congress.

A WONDERFUL FEAT.

Baseball Player Catches a Ball Dropped From Washington Monument.
(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Aug. 21.—Chas. Street, catcher on the Washington American League baseball team today won a bet of $500 made with John Biddle, of this city, by performing the unprecedented though oft-attempted feat of catching a regulation ball dropped from the top of the Washington monument. It was necessary to secure a permit before this feat could be undertaken because of the extreme danger involved. The ball was dropped from one of the small windows near the top of the monument at a height of 550 feet above the pavement where Street caught it on the fourth attempt, the failures being due to a rather brisk wind which deflected the ball in its course. Street was considerably jarred by the impact of the sphere on his big catcher's mitt but nevertheless caught in this afternoon's game against Detroit.

SUICIDED IN PRISON

Woman Held For Shoplifting Was Bent on Self Destruction.
(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 21.—Possibly acting on the suggestion contained in a magazine story which she had just read, a young woman awaiting trial on a charge of shoplifting committed suicide in her cell in the Jefferson Market prison tonight by hanging herself to the transom of the door with a rope taken from the prison cot.

The name given by the woman at the time of her arrest was Marion Desmond, but it is believed this is fictitious. Another theory advanced in explanation of the woman's act is that it was brought about through fear of her identity being discovered at the trial.

SAILORS LOSE FIRST

Wilmington Defeated By Wilson By The Score of Three to Nothing.

WILSON BUNCHED HITS

Costly Errors on Part of Locals and Opportune Hitting on Part of Visitors Gave the Tobacconists the Game.

Wilmington 0, Wilson 3.

The above shows the result of the first of the series of games between Wilmington and Wilson to decide the championship. The game was characterized by costly errors on the part of the locals and opportune hitting by the visiting team. While Thompson, who was on the slab for the visitors, allowed almost as many hits as Bussey, who did the twirling for the locals, he kept them so well scattered that they did not count for anything, on the other hand Bussey was batted when hits meant runs.

The game was won in the fourth inning when the Tobacconists got two men around the bases. The grand stand and bleachers conceded the game to the visitors when the two runs were piled up. It was a lead that the Sailors could hardly hope to overcome.

In the fourth inning Gettig led off with a bunt which netted him a base and he went to second on Bell's sacrifice; Miller flied out to second; Turner drove one to short, who fumbled the ball and made a bad throw to first, Gettig advanced to third base and when Mills got a hit to left garden for two bags Gettig and Turner scored. Guerrant flied out to second, retiring the side.

Nothing but goose eggs adorned the score board from the fourth to the eighth inning, when the visitors again scored, Thompson, who had made first on a single to left garden and advanced to second on Moore's sacrifice, crossing the home plate on Gettig's hit to centrefield. This ended the run making.

The Game in Detail.

First Inning—Moore lines out to Cooper in centrefield and Gettig fans; Bell dies, Bussey to Hoey. Wilmington: Rath hits to first and is out; Hoey bunts to pitcher and is thrown out at first; Sharpe gets a pretty single to deep right field, but is caught trying to steal second.

Second Inning—Miller hit to third and was thrown out at first; Turner gets a hit to deep short, the ball being too hard for Rath to handle; Mills safe on fielder's choice; Turner went out, Sharpe to Rath; Guerrant hit to short and Mills was thrown out at second, retiring the side. Wilmington: Smith singles through third; Smith caught trying to steal; Kite fans; Doak flies out to left field.

Third Inning—Walsh gets one through second base; Thompson lands safe on fielder's choice; Walsh out, Bussey to Hoey; Moore hits to short, who throws Thompson out at second, the latter in turn gets Moore at first. Wilmington: Flynn flies out to right field; Cooper dies the same way; Bussey fans.

Fourth Inning—Gettig gets to first on bunt; Bell sacrifices Gettig to second; Miller flies out to second; Turner hits to short, who fumbles and throws low to first on difficult chance, advancing Gettig to third; Mills gets hit to left garden for two bags, scoring Gettig and Turner; Guerrant flies out to Sharpe. Wilmington: Rath out on pop fly to pitcher; Hoey died at first, having hit to short; Sharpe gets free transportation; Smith goes out, second to first.

Fifth Inning—Gettig hits to Smith, who makes a wild throw to Hoey and the runner lands safely at second; Bell out on pop fly to Hoey; Miller bunts to Bussey and dies before reaching first; Turner fans. Wilmington: Rath out on pop fly to short and Hoey lines out to pitcher; Sharpe gets another single to right field, but Smith comes along and pops out to first base, retiring the side.

Seventh Inning—Mills out on fly to centrefield; Guerrant fans; Walsh bunts to short and is thrown out at first. Wilmington: Kite fails to connect with the ball after making three desperate strokes at it; Doak out on a liner to Thompson, who makes sensational one-hand catch; Flynn out on fly to second.

Eighth Inning—Thompson singles to left garden and advances to second on Moore's sacrifice; Thompson scores on Gettig's hit to centrefield; Bell flies out to Smith; Miller hits to centrefield and Gettig is caught at home plate. Wilmington: Cooper hits to third and goes out at first; Bussey gets safe hit to centrefield; Rath flies out to same garden; On error of third Hoey lands safe on first, but is out in trying to steal second.

VENERABLE ENGINEER DEAD

Mr. Thomas A. Lawther Passed Away Yesterday at Home in This City.

Mr. Thomas A. Lawther, for years a popular and well known engineer on the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, No. 412 North Front street, his death being due to heart trouble. He has been a sufferer of heart disease for several months and declined very rapidly. While the members of his family and intimate friends were aware of the seriousness of his condition, his death came as a shock to them.

Hr. Lawther was 60 years old and for over 40 years he pulled the throttle of a locomotive engine. He was born in Petersburg, Va., where he served his apprenticeship. During his long career as a locomotive engineer he has been with various railroad systems and made an enviable record.

Mr. Lawther moved to Wilmington about 30 years ago and took an engine on the Atlantic Coast Line, which road he served most acceptably until a short time ago when he was taken ill. He was known to a large number of Wilmington people, all of whom held him in the highest esteem.

Besides his wife the deceased is survived by two daughters and a son, Misses Bella and Mary Lawther and Mr. Thomas A. Lawther, Jr., all of whom reside at the family residence in this city.

The funeral services will be held from the home at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The remains will be laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery.

SOUVENIR DANCES

Youngsters and Older People Have Gay Time at Lumina.

The Souvenir Dance at Lumina last night was a thoroughly delightful affair and was attended by a large number. A special children's dance was given early in the evening, closing at 9 o'clock when the older people took the floor. Dainty favors were distributed among the children. Souvenirs were also given to the older ones.

The attendance was a little off last last night on account of the weather, but the dances were among the most enjoyable of the series given at this popular place.

EXCURSION FROM RALEIGH.

Arrived in the City Yesterday Afternoon—Will Return Today.

The excursion from Raleigh, which arrived in the city about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, brought about 600 excursionists to the city. The train was operated over the Raleigh & Southport Railroad via Fayetteville.

A majority of the excursionists spent the day at Carolina and Wrightsville Beaches, but a number remained in the city and witnessed the baseball game between Wilmington and Wilson. The return trip will be made tonight, the train leaving here late this afternoon.

Scows for U. S. Engineers.

Wednesday's Baltimore Sun: "Sanford & Brooks yesterday launched a six-pocket mud scow, the first of two to an order from the United States Engineer Corps to be used in channel work at Wilmington, N. C. The second will be launched today. Each is 125 feet long, 32 feet beam and 10 feet deep, with a capacity of 550 cubic yards."

500 NEW BOX CARS

Atlantic Coast Line Lets Big Contract to Baltimore Concern.

MANY BIDS WERE RECEIVED

The Corporation Which Was Given Contract in Hands of Receivers. Order May Put it on Solid Financial Basis.

The call for bids recently submitted from the office of Mr. R. E. Smith, general superintendent of the motive power of the Atlantic Coast Line in this city, for 500 steel underframe box cars of the largest freight carrying capacity, resulted in awarding the contract this week to the South Baltimore Steel Car & Foundry Company, a defunct corporation, whose interests are in the hands of receivers.

Proposals to the car building companies were sent from the Cast Line office in Wilmington the first of August and it is stated that the competition for the big order was keen. It is significant that the Coast Line Company has an abundance of confidence in the restoration of normal conditions industrially, as is shown by the placing of the large order. However, from reports sent out from Baltimore, there is some uncertainty of the Baltimore company being in a position at the present time to qualify with the demands of the big contract.

At the same time the receivers have announced that to fill the big order would mean much toward putting the company back in the hands of the stockholders and would also be of much gain to the creditors. The contract mentions specified dates for the delivery of the cars, this requiring them to be built very rapidly to enable the Coast Line to push them into service in time to handle the fruit, cotton and tobacco crops in the South.

The likelihood of the car company complying with the contract is given in an article published in the Baltimore Sun, with Mr. Joseph R. Foard, one of the receivers of the company, as authority. Extracts of the same are as follows:

"The securing of this contract," Mr. Foard said, "will mean the practical using up at a profit of the material the receivers found on hand when they took hold of the defunct corporation."

"The inventoried value of this material made by experts was $539,000. The works have been kept running largely in the repairs of the Baltimore & Ohio cars. Some new work has been done and other systems have had cars here for overhauling. If this material can be used up at a profit over what it was placed at when the receivers took charge, less than a year ago, then Mr. Foard thinks the duty of the receivers is practically at an end. He strongly intimated that on the completion of this Coast Line contract, with a clearance to the creditors, there would be nothing else left for court officers to take charge of and the corporation might again be turned over to its stockholders.

"Mr. Foard was unwilling to say how much profit had been made, but he seemed well satisfied with the work of the receivers.

"The building of 500 cars will require some time and no steps toward ending the receivership will be taken until this task is finished. In the meantime other contracts may come in which will further increase the revenues of the company for the benefit of the security holders.

"'Will you require any additional force if this contract comes to you?' Mr. Foard was asked.

"'I would not say too much about that at this time,' he replied. 'I can say that we will get all the workmen needed at short notice and will not have to go far from Baltimore for them. Ample force will be put on the job, just how many I cannot conjecture.

"'It is wrong to hold out false hopes to idle men in other sections. If they once get the idea that there is an undue activity in the building trades in Baltimore they will flock here from all sections, only to be disappointed, perhaps, and to be stranded far from home. Some unfortunate instances of this have come under my observation. Some weeks ago it was reported that Pittsburg was resuming business activities on a large scale and that mechanics and laborers were wanted. Many from here went there and were disappointed, and in more than one instance they had to walk back home.

"'There are evidences of reviving prosperity, it is true, but let it overtake our own idle ones ,rst.'"

OUR SEAPORT CITY.

"The people of our State do not realize the immense shipping business done through the port of Wilmington. They think of that city as a pretty good town, a little slow as compared with some others in the State, but still a very good place, where people are born, live and die and are buried and the new generation comes on to take their places. The people know that it is our seaport city and take some pride in it as such, but still they do not think in figures and have little idea of the immense business done through that port."

The above is from the Raleigh Times and gives a pretty clear idea of the opinion most people in the State have of Wilmington. Many people in the interior will tell you that there is northing down here but sand and sandfiddlers and they won't be able to tell you what a sandfiddler is. It has become the habit for many people in the State to belittle the importance to the State of this city. To do so is an admittance of their ignorance in regard to their State. People who say that Wilmington is of no consequence as a seaport to the State had as well also deny that their State produces large quantities of lumber, of cotton or of naval stores. The well informed and the ones who look to the future recognize the present importance of this port and look to greater things for the whole State through the improvement of her shipping facilities through the deepening of the channel to the sea. When this deeper channel is completed there will not be a more important seaport on the whole South Atlantic coast, and then we hope there will be an end to the sneers at our city which so frenquently come from certain sections of the State. It is a matter of astonishment that Wilmington, with her past history as to what she has done for the State, the Nation and for the Confederacy during the few years of the latter's existence, and in view of what she is expected to do in a commercial way for so large a part of the South Atlantic States, should not receive greater consideration in some sections of her own State.

HAPPY FAYETTEVILLIANS.

Readers of the Star will remember that a day or so ago there was an account, sent from San Francisco, of two earthquake shocks. From the Fayetteville Observer of the same date we take the following:

"A gentleman living on Dick street heard a noise in his room about 2 o'clock this morning, and getting up, found that a clock on the mantelpiece had been thrown to the floor. When the store of J. L. Kennedy was opened this morning, the centre of the building was found strewn with goods and boxes thrown from the whole length of one of the top shelves. We have seen no one who felt anything like an earthquake shock, so the cause of the above recorded incidents remain a mystery."

Evidently Fayetteville felt the same shock but the people did not know it. They were sleeping too soundly to be aroused. Sound sleeping is an evidence of good conscience; ergo, Fayetteville people have good consciences and in their waking moments do nothing they are ashamed of or keeps them awake at night thinking about. Happy Fayettevilleans.

That gentleman in Richmond who refused to attempt even to secure a lot of waiters for a hotel proprietor in Springfield, Ill., showed that he had the right kind of feeling toward the negroes of his section. He was applied to by mail to send out a batch of waiters to take the place of those who had left the town because of the rioting. His reply was: "I will not send anybody. You can kill your own negroes if you want to, but you cannot kill ours." That man was a Virginian, a Democrat and a thorough Southerner, and, consequently a true friend of the negro—his best in this country. His language, while very terse and perhaps rather inelegant, had the right ring to it, expressing the true feeling of the white man of the South toward the negro. He told, in his peculiar way, that the white man of the South has regard for the welfare of the negro and is unwilling to see him imposed on or put in place of danger, or of being maltreated just because he is a negro as so often happens to him at the North, but never at the South, where the negro is known and his character understood as nowhere else.

"Should old acquaintance be forgot
And never called to mind
Should principles abandoned be,
And days of 'Auld Lang Syne?'"

The above from the Democratic national campaign song book is rather out of tune with the declaration in Bryan's letter of acceptance that he will stand on the unwritten as well as on the written declarations of the Denver convention platform. Evidently Bryan was not called on to revise the campaign song book or he would not have "blue penciled" the above stanza.

The Republicans decline to hold themselves responsible for the utter failure of the second crop of watermelons in the Bogue Sound section; at the same time they want credit for those crops that "hit" and consequently are abundant. With them what is sauce for the goose is by no means necessarily sauce for the gander. With the elements and the seasons they play the game of heads we win, tails you lose.

Of course Taft does not want to be disappointed in this matter of Presidential election. One way for him to keep from being so is for him not to expect to carry a whole heap of the Southern States. The less he expects from the South the less will he be disappointed when the election returns are sent in.

Thomas J. Pence, writing from Democratic headquarters in Chicago, says there is an unprecedented demand for Democratic speakers in every section of the country. The men making this demand should take position on the Wilmington street corners. However, the oratory may not be of the kind to suit them.

Where a man advises his brother to shoot another and with his pistol keeps persons from coming to the rescue, we do not see how the unwritten law can be invoked in aid of the abettor of the crime. That is stretching that law further than its most ardent advocates have ever claimed for it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Just as we supposed and said. Hon. Luke Wright, whose appointment was hailed by the unthinking as the elevation of a Democrat to a seat in a Republican cabinet, will vote and work for Taft's election. Of course, he will. On what other understanding could he have consented to become one of Roosevelt's official family? Let us have a rest from all this talk about Taft Democrats or Bryan Republicans. By their fruits ye shall know them. The ballot box is the one supreme and final test of party allegiance. They who covet the name of Democrat should stick to the flag of Democracy. —Norfolk Virginian.

—Some of our Republican contemporaries are rejoicing over the fact that the Baltimore Sun has espoused the cause of Taft and the incident is hailed as "likely to carry Maryland for the Republican ticket." But there are reasons for believing that the carrying power of the Baltimore Sun will not amount to much in the campaign this year. In this connection it is well to remark that the Sun is a conspicuous member of the group of Eastern newspapers which represent the interests of high finance and big corporations, rather than the interests of the people. They have no influence whatever in guiding popular thought or action for the reason that the people knowing the character of these newspapers have no confidence in them and are not impressed by the political views they print.—New Orleans States.

—The Seaboard Air Line Company has definitely decided to invest $140,000 in the improvement of its wharfage facilities at Wilmington, and the work is to be commenced at once. This is, as a matter of course, in preparation for the handling of its increased business through its new connection with the Tennessee coal fields and indicates the certain vast increase in the business of the port of Wilmington. It is but another argument in favor of the project for deepening the Cape Fear to the ocean and of the necessity of that work, which there is reason to believe will be under way in the course of a couple of years. No port on the South Atlantic coast has had a more remarkable increase in commerce, or a more remarkable business revival than Wilmington. That city is but starting on a business development that will rapidly tend to make of it one of the greatest seaports of this country.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—In urging a citizen to run for the Legislature in its county, The Durham Herald remarks: "When wild-eyed but well-meaning men draw lurid pictures of the rapacious greed of the American Tobacco Company, you can stand forth in the fashion of a man and tell them the truth. When mendacious mountebanks prate loudly of that corporation's hold upon the souls of men you can stand up in your own god-like freedom and tell them that company's ethical influence is nil, its political power a joke, but its commercial welfare here the life of this town."

—When Oklahoma, the baby State, adopted its constitution, it contained several clauses that were a new departure in such instruments, and which in consequence attracted much attention throughout the country. One of these was in relation to State bank deposits, which were to be guaranteed by the Government. Charging the banks a very small tax, the State insures all deposits in these institutions. No matter what may happen to the bank, the depositor is safe. If the cashier steal all the funds and escapes with them, the State will promptly pay each depositor within a few days. If the bank directors make injudicious investments and the bank become shaky, there will be no run on the bank because the depositors know that in any event they are safe. How this system will result in the end only time can determine, but for the present it has a splendid effect on the banking business of Oklahoma.—Augusta Herald.

—And now the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is soaking it to Taft. President George T. Angell, of the Massachusetts Society, says: "It is outrageous cruelty to animals for a big 300-pound man like Taft to ride a horse about the country," and adds that it ought to be stopped, that this weight loads a horse down, that he doubts not that the stories are straight from Hot Springs that Taft's horse's legs were wrenched and strained, and that Taft ought to use an automobile or an elephant. Dr. Angell should remember that Mr. Taft is doing his best just now to ride an elephant, the Republican elephant, but his weight is proving too heavy even for that animal. The elephant deserves sympathy also. And even if it be the automobile for Mr. Taft, the tires will "bust" and he will never reach the White House. Walking is what we would suggest as the only remedy in the Taft case.—News and Observer.

—A problem poem which has floated back to Manhattan from the Long Island Summer resorts opens quite as wide a field for debate as any of Browning's most intricate fancies. It has been a subject of hot discussion on more than one hotel veranda. It goes thus, according to the New York Sun: Which do you think is the greatest slur: DID he kiss her? Did HE kiss her? Did he KISS her? or, Did he kiss HER?

Star Business Local Is a Business Winner

—Asheville, N. C., Aug 20.—Despondent from long ill health and feeling that she was a burden to her husband and people, Mrs. A. J. Abrahams, of Huntsville, Ala., a guest of the Hotel Berkley, this morning between midnight and dawn, fired a bullet into her brain and ended her life. Mrs. Abrahams came to Asheville from Alabama two or three weeks ago and was a guest at the Battery Park Hotel until recently, when she went to the Hotel Berkley. She had been in ill health for many years, and was suffering from extreme nervousness. Mrs. Abrahams retired to her room about midnight, leaving with the night clerk her purse and several articles of jewelry. The suicide was not discovered until about 7 o'clock this morning, when the husband, reaching the city on train No. 36 from the West secured a key from the hotel office, and going to his wife's room to give her greeting, was horrified upon opening the door to find Mrs. Abrahams dressed in a street costume and lying on the floor, with blood oozing from her temple. It is believed that Mrs. Abrahams' acts before the shot was committed about 3 o'clock in the morning. That the suicide was deliberately planned was evidenced by Mrs. Abraham's acts before the shot was fired. After retiring to her room it is supposed that she wrote the letters found on a table this morning. The letters evidenced that the domestic life of Mrs. Abrahams was sweet and pleasant and that her rash act was prompted by a desire no longer to be a burden, as she stated it, to those she loved. One letter was written to Mr. Abrahams, in which in endearing terms she spoke of their years of married life; how kind and good he had always been to her and saying that she loved him dearly. Then Mrs. Abrahams told of her determination to end her life, saying that when she was gone and no longer a burden her husband might accumulate some money. Another letter was addressed to Mrs. Abrahams' mother. This letter also was beautifully written. It was couched in terms of sweetest love for the mother and of appreciation of her gentleness and goodness.

A WHISTLER STORY.

The Eagle That Was Made to Pose as a Fighting Cock.

Apropos of something Whistler once told a cockfight story so vividly that only a man with a sailor instinct could tell it as well, mimic it so keenly and enjoy it so thoroughly. It was a story of a strange species of the American cock, pictured to the smallest detail so beautifully that one forgot that it was a story.

Some American sailors were at a cockfight in a seaport town in England when one of them remarked to the owner of the champion:

"We have got an American cock on board that can whip any bird here."

"Go fetch 'im on," said the champion. "Chuck 'im in and see. If 'e licks one bird we 'ave plenty more to throw in that can lick hany blawsted Hamerican bird you can fetch 'ere."

"All right. We'll bring one," said the sailors. When they got aboard they rigged up an American eagle. After their own manner, they painted, trimmed, spliced and reefed fore and aft, transforming the eagle to a cock. When ready they went ashore to pit their new American gamecock against all England.

At the pit the sailors chucked in their cock, which looked around for other surprises as he backed close to the wall.

"Now, bring on your birds!" yelled the sailors. A strutting cock was thrown into the pit and was another surprise to the poor dismantled eagle. He backed up closer and closer to the wall, wondering what would happen next. The cock walked three times majestically around the circle, cuffing at his strange opponent, the eagle pitiably abashed and bedrabbled, crouching lower and lower and looking around and above him for an explanation of what it all meant, while the crowd were yelling madly for the English fighter. The eagle made himself smaller and smaller, but at last, finding that he could get back no further and thinking that something was expected of him, and, as the cock dashed at him again, stretched out his long claws and took his opponent by the neck.

Here Whistler ended with an imitation by motions of what the eagle did. He stretched out his arm, shaped his hand like a claw, which by this time looked like a real one, drew it to his mouth and with one bite pulled off the head as he thought an eagle might do it. Then he looked blandly about the room, as the eagle had done, at the astonished crowd and said, "Now bring on your other birds."—Otto Bacher in Century.

GOV. HASKELL IN CHICAGO.

Arrived at Democratic Headquarters to Look After Funds.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Governor Chas. N. Haskell, of Oklahoma, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, arrived at Democratic headquarters today and began systematizing his efforts to secure campaign funds. He said money was coming in fair amounts and there would be enough to finance a good campaign.

Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, who was a caller at the Democratic National headquarters today informed Chairman Mack as he had been drafted as the party's standard bearer in Minnesota, he would have to devote most of his time during the campaign to work in that State. He would, however, do everything possible for the National ticket, so far as loyalty to his Minnesota colleagues would permit. Governor Johnson, on next Monday will confer with members of the Democratic State central committee of his home State as to how much of his time would be demanded by local politics. He will then inform Mr. Mack to what extent he will be able to lend his strength to the general campaign. Governor Johnson has just completed a series of chautauqua lectures in Kansas, Missouri, Indiana and Illinois. He said the signs for Democratic success in the fall were roseate.

Other callers were Senator Culberson, of Texas, chairman of the advisory committee; Governor Malcom Patterson, of Tennessee, and W. G. Conrad, of Hontana, whose candidacy for the Democratic Vice Presidential nomination was a feature of the pre-convention canvass. Governor Patterson characterized talk of any Southern State swinging into the Republican column as ridiculous.

Colonel Robert Ewing, editor of the New Orleans Daily States, visited the headquarters tonight and turned over $3,250 of contributions to the Bryan campaign fund.

$1,000 IN DECAYED GREENBACKS

Buried His Savings Fearing the Banks to Be Unsafe.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Aug. 21.—Of $1,000 in decayed greenbacks sent to the treasury department for redemption by O. D. Earl, of Merrillon, Ark., all but $25 have been identified and a check of $975 was mailed to Mr. Earl today.

Fearing the banks were unsafe Mr. Earl buried his savings in an old pail in 1904. Recently he dug up his treasure only to find that bills were so decayed that he could not discern their numbers. All that was left of the roll was a bunch of papers resembling a package of dried leaves with here and there the torn end of a note displaying a figure. Mrs. A. E. Brown, the burnt money expert of the redemption division was given custody of the unrecognizable mass, when Mr. Earl forwarded what was left of his fortune to the treasury department. After much tedious work she has succeeded in identifying most of the money.

ENTERTAINING THE FLEET

Jackies Given Shore Leave and Have Day of Enjoyment.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Sydney, N. S. W., Saturday, Aug. 22.—The city again today was enfete in honor of the visit of the American Atlantic battleship fleet. The entertainments of the morning and afternoon were designed principally for the enlisted men, many of whom were given shore leave. Five hundred of the men started early this morning as guests of the Government in special trains for New Castle and the blue mountains, returing to Sydney this evening. Many of the men preferred to witness the football and baseball matches, the aqueatic sports and an exhibition in the domain by the firemen of the city. For the latter event 20,000 spectators gathered and the American jackies applauded the fine display made by the fire fighters.

While there were no official functions scheduled for the day, numerous officers visited the city and were guests at various luncheons and other social functions. The event of the day will be a banquet this evening tendered Admiral Sperry and the senior officers of the fleet by Vice Admiral Sir Richard Poore, commander-in-chief of the British squadron in Australian waters.

While the sky today is overcast, the men are enjoying their liberty ashore and are loud in their praise of the hospitality they are meeting on every hand.

EDITORS HELD BRIEF SESSION.

Report From Committee Relative to Damages For Libels.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 21.—A brief business meeting was held today by the National Editorial Association in the parlors of the Ryan Hotel just prior to starting on the day's outing on Lake Minnetonka, and in Minneapolis.

The report of the committee on resolutions was read and adopted without debate. The most important portion of this report was a second and supplemental indorsement of the position of postal department as interpreted and applied by Mr. Lawshe, third assistant postmaster general in relation to the class of matter to be received and accepted for transmission through the mails as second class.

The report of the committee also contained the following on libel laws:

"That in all actions for damages for libels it is but a matter of simple justice that suits for recovery should be instituted in place of publication; that the truth be pleaded in defense or mitigation and that a judgment of recovery shall be a bar to further prosecution and that laws, both National and State should be so drafted as to cover these just contentions."

A NOVEL SUIT INSTITUTED.

Man Who Contracted Tuberculosis Sues For $25,000.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 21.—Liability for the contraction of tuberculosis is charged in a $25,000 damage suit filed here today by Richard Devine aginst the operator of a rug factory in which he was employed until he developed tuberculosis. So far as the local courts are concerned this is a novelty in damage litigation.

The plaintiff says that in the course of the defendant's business, old carpets were collected and worked up into rugs and that no antiseptic treatment was used on the old carpets to destroy germs. It is avered that the plaintiff can never recover his health.

The plaintiff in his petition further avers that he took employment with the defendant company on November 9, 1906, at the age of 20 and prior to that time he had no suspicion of the tubercular taint about him. He says that he did not know that the carpets contained germs or that it was unsafe or dangerous to his health to work with them.

A Grand Family Medicine.

"It gives me pleasure to speak a good word for Electric Bitters," writes Mr. Frank Conlan of No. 436 Houston St., New York. "It's a grand family medicine for dyspepsia and liver complications; while for lame back and weak kidneys it cannot be too highly recommended." Electric Bitters regulate the digestive functions, purify the blood, and impart renewed vigor and vitality to the weak and debilitated of both sexes. Sold under guarantee at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 50c.

All Star Team Chosen.

Yesterday's Raleigh Times contained the following which will be of interest among the local fans:

"There has been lots of talk about an all-star team, picked from the four clubs of the Eastern Carolina League. To pick a team and place some of the men from the Carolina Association on it would not be satisfactory, because some of them have been placed on the all star team of their league, consequently, the team below is picked from the clubs before the addition of the Carolina Association.

The pitchers should be: Anderson, Mayberry, Bussey and Brandon. Catchers: Holt and Ross. First base, Mills; second base, Adams; third base Smith; shortstop, Rath. Outfielders: Left field, Hoffman; centre, Moore; right field James.

"In this team Wilson has two pitchers, a catcher, first baseman and an outfielder; Wilmington has a pitcher, catcher, shortstop and third baseman; Raleigh has a pitcher and outfielder, and Goldsboro has a second baseman and outfielder.

"Hoover, Raleigh's star third baseman, comes mighty close to being as good as Smith. Rummy Wrenn may not be a sensational man or a great thrower but he works harder than any other catcher in the league. Dawson can field as good as any of 'em but his hitting keeps him off the all stars."

WRIGHT MAKES A FLY

People at Auvours Watch Machine Sour to Height of 75 Feet.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Lemans, Aug. 21.—Wilbur Wright, the American aeroplanist, made his first appearance today since his enforced cessation of experiments as the result of the recent accident to his machine. The demonstration this evening was made at Auvours. No attempt was made to accomplish anything in the nature of a long flight, but the evolutions were made with the accustomed consummate skill. The machine soared to a height of 75 feet and landed without a mishap.

Mr. Wright's expectations that the distance to Auvours would deter spectators from going there to witness his trials of the aeroplane were not realized, but soldiers were posted to keep the crowds out of the way. One woman enthusiast, however, eluded the vigilance of the soldiers, got beyond the shed and bored a peep hole with a gimlet in order to view the aeroplane and the quarters of the aeroplanist.

There was much jubilant here shortly after 9 o'clock when it was reported that Burgess had succeeded in swimming the channel.

MR. BRYAN IN DES MOINES

His First Speech in the Campaign. The Tariff His Subject—Second Speech to an Over-flow Crowd Goes to Chicago.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 21.—Comparing the attitude of the two dominant parties on the tariff question William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for the Presidency at the baseball park tonight, before a vast audience, fired his first gun in the campaign. He attacked the Republican promises of tariff revision and asked if the Democratic party was not justified when it included in its platform the declaration that the "people cannot safely entrust the execution of this important work to a party which is so deeply obliged to the highly portected interests as the Republican party?

Mr. Bryan, accompanied by Mayor Frank Brown, of Lincoln, Private Secretary Robert F. Rose and several correspondents, arrived at 9:30 o'clock this morning. The entire party was tired, owing to the long wait at the station in Lincoln. Upon arrival in this city, Mr. Bryan and those who accompanied him, were driven to the Savery Hotel where the Democratic candidate held an informal reception in the lobby.

At the station to meet Mr. Bryan were Mayor A. J. Mathis, of Des Moines; Mayor Sears, of Sioux City, Jerry Sullivan, National Committeeman Wade, Fred E. White, Democratic candidate for Governor, and many other prominent Iowa Democrats.

Following breakfast at the hotel Mr. Bryan was taken for a ride through the city. This ride included an unexpected call on Governor A. B. Cummins in the Executive Chamber. The two men indulged in pleasant repartee for ten minutes. After luncheon Mr. Bryan rested for several hours and then, escorted by the Young Men's Bryan Club, and many prominent Democrats, he proceeded to the baseball park where he was cordially cheered before speaking. Upon the conclusion of his tariff speech, he addressed an overflow crowd in the auditorium and emphasized his views regarding the election of the United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

Mr. Bryan left Des Moines late tonight for Chicago, where he will remain several days and hold conferences with his campaign managers.

WARM WIRELETS.

A son was born yesterday to Senator and Mrs. Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, who are stopping at Manchester, Mass., for the Summer.

Four coaches on a Missouri Pacific passenger train were derailed last night four miles east of Pueblo, Cal., while the train was moving slowly. No one was injured . The cause of the wreck was spreading rails due to heavy rains.

The new battleship Montana had a screw standardization course yesterday and made two speed runs at 21 knots. The average of five high runs during her builders' acceptance trial last April was 22,035. Today's failure to reach those figures is ascribed in part to a new crew.

The British consul general yesterday unconditionally surrendered to the Korean authorities the editor of the vernacular edition of the Daily News, who escaped from the police on August 13 and sought refuge in the home of E. T. Bethed, the English proprietor of the paper.

Lieutenant Colonel Isaac W. Littell, now on duty in the Quartermaster General's office, War Department, has been ordered to Newport News, Va., for the purpose of examining into the matter of a new lease for proper wharf facilities for the mooring of four army transports now out of commission.

While Mr. Bryan was speaking in the ball park yesterday evening at Des Moines, Ia., the temporary platform on which were seated several hundred people, collapsed. Nobody was hurt and there was no panic, but Mr. Bryan was interrupted for five minutes while arrangements were made for him to continue speaking from the grand stand, where he finished his address.

The British & American Steam Navigation, limited, yesterday filed a libel in the United States court at Norfolk, Va., against 2,102 mahogany logs brought to Norfolk on the British steamship Nembo and the American West African Trading Co., of New York, as consignee. The libellant claims $26,224 less $4,400 on alleged broken contract and demurrage, civil and maritime.

ICEBERGS.

They Are Useful as Well as Grand and Menacing.

When an iceberg is launched upon its long journey its bottom parts are barnacled with sand, bowlders and other detritus gathered from the land surface over which it has made its tedious march to the sea. This burden is gradually cast off as it melts while drifting down along our continental seaboard.

As a result of the deposits thus made through countless centuries, combined with the products of erosion carried seaward by the rivers, the sea bed for many miles off shore has been gradually filled up, creating those vast submerged plateaus, known as "banks," which extend from Labrador to the bay of Fundy and form the breeding grounds of innumerable shoals of cod, herring and other valuable food fishes. In this way the bergs have performed an economic service of incalculable value, laying the foundation for one of the world's most important productive industries and affording a means of livelihood to those hardy bands of "captains courageous" who each year reap the harvests of the sea.

The bergs serve a further economic purpose in that to their tempering influences are largely due the climatic conditions prevailing over a great part of the interior of North America.—Alfred Sidney Johnson in the World Today.

ABSENTMINDED.

A Story of Bunsen, the Great German Scientist.

In the autobiography of Sir Henry Roscoe there is a capital example of the absentmindedness of Bunsen, the great German scientist.

He had had his evening clothes put out that he might attend a card party to which he had been invited, but forgot all about it until the next morning, when his man pointed out that the evening clothes had not been worn. And then he remarked to himself, "I know what I'll do." That evening he put on his dress clothes, went to the lady's house at the appointed time and walked in as if it were the day upon which he had been invited. The hostess, much too polite to tell him that he had mistaken the evening and that the party had taken place on the previous night, sent to her friends asking them to come in to play a rubber again. They did so. In the course of the evening the conversation turned on absentmindedness, and Bunsen began to tell them what had happened to him a long time ago—how that he had forgotten an invitation and how he had made up his mind to go the next night—and thus he told the party the whole story, forgetting altogether that he was giving them an account of what was happening at the very moment.

Brought to Terms.

In the Drayton household it is said that the father of the family has a way of presenting alternatives to his children that never fails to bring them into line.

"I wish you would speak to Bobby," said Mrs. Drayton one night. "I've told him to take his medicine and then jump into bed, and he won't do it. He just hops around and says he doesn't want to take the medicine and he doesn't want to go to bed."

Mr. Drayton stepped to the door of Bobby's room and stood there, tall, grave and impressive.

"Bobby," he said firmly, "if you don't take your medicine at once and then jump into bed you will be put to bed, do you hear me, put to bed, without having your medicine at all."

Upon which Bobby, alarmed and confused, swallowed his allotted portion and meekly retired for the night.—Youth's Companion.

"Scouring the Land."

I have just been examining an old book containing the accounts of the charity estate of West Haddon, embracing the years 1773-1850. Under date Aug. 17, 1776, is the following entry:

"Paid Richard Worster seven days' work, cutting thorns and scowering and stoping of gaps, 10s. 6d."

The term "scouring the ditch" is used on Jan. 8, 1781, and appears many times after this date, the last instance being on April 28, 1820.—London Notes and Queries.

Justified.

"You are charged with having knocked your wife down, blacking both of her eyes and loosening two of her teeth. Have you anything to say for yourself?"

"She had it comin' to her, your honor."

"What did she do or say that could in any way justify such treatment on your part?"

"She said I didn't love her no more."—Houston Post.

THE ARCTIC REGION.

Where Smoke Rises From the Sea and Trees Burst From Cold.

Explorers who penetrate the Arctic and Antarctic seas have a chance to observe one of the strangest phenomena in nature, that of smoke rising from the sea. Wherever the temperature falls to 15 degrees below zero clouds of steaming vapor ascend from the ocean to be immediately frozen into tiny particles of ice and dropped once more into the water.

The same thing takes place on land, the vapor rising from the snow and even from the bodies of the explorers themselves. In this case, however, the ice particles fall on the ground and make a weird rustling, like the swish of a silk dress.

At 40 degrees below zero the sap of trees is turned to ice, and the trunks burst asunder with a sharp report. These mysterious sounds and sights are awe inspiring to all who do not know their cause, and they may account for some of the strange tales that are told of the frozen north.

Natural light at sea is a much more common phenomenon. As the screw of a steamer churns the water under certain conditions you may see the waves glowing angrily where they have been disturbed. This is called phosphorescence, and scientists are not agreed as to its cause.

WHISTLER AND MONEY.

The Eccentric Artist's Utter Lack of Business Instinct.

The Dundee Advertiser tells a story illustrating Whistler's forgetfulness and utter lack of business instinct. Being hard pressed for a debt and having finally been informed he would be sued unless a check for the amount was sent by return post, the artist mentioned the matter to one of his friends who lived near him. Explaining that he had a few pounds in the bank, the exact sum unknown, he requested his friend to stop at the bank on the way to business to ascertain what was required to make his account good for a check of slightly over $90 and to deposit that amount for him as a loan.

The friend was quite willing and in due time stood at the cashier's desk of Whistler's bank asking the amount of his balance and explaining the errand. The cashier was interested. He went to the big book of balances, turned over a few pages, wrote down some figures and in a moment placed them before the astonished friend. Whistler's balance was more than $30,000.

The artist was delighted, but found it difficult to remember when he had deposited so much money or where he had got it.

A Beaconsfield Story.

A lady who was his constant friend and benefactor begged Lord Beaconsfield to read Mallock's first book and say something civil about it. The prime minister replied, with a groan: "Ask me anything, dear lady, except this. I am an old man. Do not make me read your young friend's romances."

"Oh, but he would be a great accession to the Tory party, and a civil word from you would secure him forever."

"Oh, well, then, give me a pen and a sheet of paper." And, sitting down in the lady's drawing room, he wrote: "'Dear Mrs. ——, I am sorry that I cannot dine with you, but I am going down to Hughenden for a week. Would that my solitude could be peopled by the bright creations of Mr. Mallock's fancy.' Will that do for your young friend?"

As an appreciation of a book which one has not read this is perfect.

The Alternative.

At a fancy dress ball for children a policeman was stationed at the door and was instructed by the committee not to admit any adults. Shortly after the beginning of the ball a woman came running up to the door and demanded admission.

"I'm sorry, mum," replied the policeman, "but I can't let any one in but children."

"But my child is dressed as a butterfly," exclaimed the woman, "and she has forgotten her wings."

"No matter," replied the policeman; "orders is orders, so you'll have to let her go as a caterpillar."—London Answers.

Lights Out!

An irascible sergeant, going his nightly round of the barracks in order to make sure that all lights had been extinguished, noticed that a window was illuminated. He roused the occupants of the room. "Put out that light," he ordered, "and be quick about it!"

"But it's moonlight," explained a private.

"I don't care what it is," roared the sergeant; "put it out!"—London Graphic.

Costly Monotony In Dress.

Our clothes are all alike, and this monotony has led to unlimited extravagances. What has not been done to make the eternal pinafore frock look original? New elaborations are invented daily, each one more expensive than the last, but nobody is deceived. It is still the old pinafore, only a little madder, a little dearer, every day.—London Graphic.

An Unfortunate Interruption.

"George was just going to propose to me last night."

"And what happened?"

"A tire blew up, and then he couldn't think of anything else."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The sacred crocodiles of Egypt were buried with her proudest kings.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Lenoir News: The readers of The News will remember that a few weeks ago we published the death of Jesse Green of Wilkes county. He was found dead at his home, the family all being away. We notice now that his wife has been accused of killing him. She has been arrested and placed in Wilkes jail.

—Newbern Journal: It is probable that the Socialists ticket (the Debs branch) will have considerable showing at the November election. A missionary of the party in the guise of the agent for a socialist paper has been working quietly but effectively in the city for several weeks. It is claimed that 20 or 30 socialist votes will be cast here.

—Albemarle, Aug. 23.—Last night the little 7-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ingle, who live on Main street, in east Albermarle, died from the effect of morphine poison. The family physician had been called in who advised Mrs. Ingle that the child only needed a dose of calomel. Intending to give the child calomel Mrs. Ingle made a mistake, and gave two one-fourth grains of morphine. Discovering later her mistake she called medical assistance but to no avail and the child died last night in the early part of the night

—Wilson, N. C., Aug. 19.—William H. Morris, one of the convicts who broke camp at Saratoga last Monday night, and who was serving a five years' sentence for the larceny of a horse and buggy, has been heard from. Last night, in Cross Roads township, he stole a mule from Haywood Lamm, and a farmer who was living a short distance from where the mule was stolen, had a buggy to suffer the same fate. It is supposed that this desperate fellow went in the direction of Raleigh. Neither of the three who escaped with him have been heard from.

—Washington, N. C., Aug. 20.—Owing to the recent high tides in Pamlico river since the late storm which did so much damage along the coast, water moccasins have been very numerous along the docks of the city and several have crawled up in the business section. Three were killed last week on Main street. The reasons attributed for their taking to the land is the high tides and their number is a result of the past several mild winters that we have had in this section when it was not cold enough to kill them out.

—Tarboro, N. C., Aug. 20.—William Alton Christenbury, a young farmer, committed suicide last night at the home of W. F. Thorne, near here, by swallowing an ounce of iodine and then shooting himself in the temple with a 38-calibre revover. He had been despondent for some time, and left a note to his sweetheart, telling of his intentions. No reason was given for the deed. He told friends last night before retiring that it was his last night in this world, but they thought he was joking. His preparations were carefully made, and the dead man was found this morning by his friends. He was 23 years of age.

—Newton Enterprise: Mrs. Mary Carpenter died in Maiden August 9th. She was the widow of Mr. Joshua Carpenter who moved to Kansas from the Maiden section soon after the civil war. After Mr. Carpenter's death a few years ago, she came back to Maiden and bought a house in the western part of town, in which she lived most of the time alone. Her nephew, Mr. A. L. Keener, was a near neighbor, and helped to manage her business and was kind and attentive to her when sick. Mr. Keener has administered on her estate, and has found hid away in books and drawers $980. In an old Salem Almanac he found a hundred dollar bill. The estate is worth $4,000 or $5,000.

—Newton Enterprise: Rev. J. H. W. Hoerr, of Claremont, returned Saturday from Birmingham, Ala., where he had been since last Monday with Mr. Robert Sigmon, who is in the St. Vincent Hospital in that place under treament for a desperate gunshot wound. Robert Sigmon and brother, Jack Sigmon and Ellis Bost, all Claremon boys, were working at a coal mine at Bluefields, Kentucky, when an agent came along engaging hands to go to Alabama. The boys agreed to go if there was no strike on hand, and were assured that there was no strike. They reached Birmingham Saturday night with a lot of other hands and Sunday morning were put in a car for Blockton, a mining town where a strike was in full force. About 10 o'clock the train was fired on by a large force of strikers from ambush. Three men were killed and six wounded. Young Sigmon was shot through the arm just above the wrist, and the same ball entered his right side, and after passing through the liver, stomach and intestines, lodged in the left side. He reached the hospital about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the doctors took him in charge. An operation was performed but the doctors had very little hope of his recovery. But when Mr. Hoerr left Birmingham such marked improvement had taken place that the doctors were feeling very hopeful. They said it was the most desperate case they had ever treated, and if he recovered it would be a marvel and a most interesting and important case in surgery. The doctors and nurses are giving the case the best possible attention, and are very much interested.

KNIGHT'S EXCURSION TO COLUMBIA.

Knight's excursion to Columbia on Monday, August 24th, offers an opportunity that may never present itself again to see the new, beautiful city, which, Phoenix like, sprung from the ashes in which General Sherman left it on February 16th, 1856, when with the exception of one small cottage on Main street not a building was left on that street, everything on it being burned for one and a half miles, and in a belt from a quarter to a half mile wide. Eighty-four squares containing 366 acres and 1,300 homes were destroyed. Go to the new and prosperous Columbia of today and wonder at its phenomenal rise.

Knights' excursions are patronized by the best people everywhere and you will make no mistake in going. Train leaves A. C. L. station Monday, August 24th, at 7:00 A. M. and will leave Columbia on the return Tuesday at 9:00 P. M. There will be separate cars for white and colored passengers. The round trip from this point is only $2.50. au 12-to-24.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 21.—The cotton market was less active today and after a sharp early break into new low ground for the movement, prices steadied on covering and it looked as though the trade was inclined to go more slowly pending a fresh view of the situation at the lower level of prices and under the changed technical condition resulting from heavy liquidation. The market closed steady at a net decline of 1 to 8 points. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales about one-third of yesterday's business. The market opened easy at a decline of 2 to 9 points and during early session sold off to a decline of 11 to 19 points with October touching 851 or 134 below the high level reached by the bull movement earlier in the month. This break was due to a renewal of Wall street liquidation and bear pressure but some of the strong bears appeared to be covering at the decline; offerings soon became less urgent, and the market developed a reactionary tendency despite that many traders thought liquidation had not been fully completed. Fluctuations were nervous during the afternoon with the close 4 or 5 points off from the best. Weather conditions were considered generally favorable.

Receipts today 11,600 against 5,354 last week and 2,506 last year. For the week 42,000 bales against 24,037 last week and 10,976 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 323 bales against 125 last year and at Houston 5,568 against 1,999 last year.

Cotton: Spot closed quiet, 10 points decline; middling uplands 10c; middling gulf 10.25; sales none.

Futures opened easy and closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 21.—The dry goods market continued fairly active in the jobbing houses. A sale of 2,000 pieces of dress goods was held by one of the large houses and other houses have done a good business on staple and seasonable goods for early shipment. Cotton yarns moved into somewhat wider channel of distribution but prices were low and the volume of business was light. The primary cotton merchandise market was affected adversely by a sharp drop in cotton and by the uncertainty concerning future prices for raw materials.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 21.—Price movements in the stock market were unimportant for the most part with the trend towards a lower level. As on the previous days of the week trading was in moderate proportions and largely restricted to the speculative element. The boldness of the shorts has been somewhat arrested by the collapse of the cotton pool which is said to have depleted the "paper" fortunes of several well known operators in stocks.

The most favorable news was the publication of a canvass by a leading financial institution of the middle west, whose 4,000 correspondents with few exceptions report the general outlook as highly encouraging. Several important railroad returns were issued.

Louisville and Nasheville for its fiscal year reported a decrease in net income of $3,260,000. The market moved up during the noon hour under heavy short covering, a factor in the advance beingthe lending of call money at 7-8 per cent. Trading in the late session became desultory, with some disposition in the direction of the higher quotation but the increased weakness in Rock Island had a demoralizing effect resulting in a heavy close. International conditions are making for greater ease in the local monetary situation. The bond market was irregular today, with government bonds unchanged. Total sales, par value, were $3,016,000. Total sales of stocks today were 680,700 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 21.—Money on call easy 3-4 to 1 per cent.; ruling rate 1, closing bid 1, offered at 1. Time loans easier on large offerings and small demand, sixty days 1 1-2 to 2 per cent., and ninety days 2 1-4 to 2 3-4 per cent. Six months 3 1-2.

Prime mercantile paper 3 to 4 per cent., and sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8460 to 4.8480 for sixty day bills and at 4.8625 for demand; commercial bills 4.83 3-4 to 4.84 3-8. Bar silver 51 1-2. Mexican dollars 45.

DUN & CO.'S TRADE REVIEW.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Trade and industrial activities continue to expand, improvement being of a conservative nature that promises permanency. There is little disposition to anticipate the future, but current distribution is larger and mercantile collections are more prompt.

Extremely quiet conditions prevailed in primary markets for cotton goods. Export trade is also dull, inquiries from India and Red Sea points being at much lower prices than are quoted. The decline in silver has made a resumption of demand from China still more remote. As goods on hand were made from cotton purchased above the present price there is no encouragement for producers to make sales.

CANDIDATE TAFT TO VIRGINIANS

Republican Presidential Nominee Opens The Campaign in Virgina.

LARGE CROWD HEARS HIM

Given an Enthusiastic Reception—He Answers Bryan's Question: "Shall the People Rule?"—Reception by Mr. and Mrs. Taft.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 21.—William H. Taft as a campaigner made his first appearance today. An audience of between 4,000 and 5,000 Virginia Republicans made every effort to express its approval.

"I wonder how an ill-natured man would feel in crowd like this" was the first sentence of Mr. Taft and a shout of approval was his answer.

The single track hour of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and many carriages and wagons brought the crowd to the mountain resort where the candidate explained that he had come, after a year of hard work, for rest and exercise and health.

From the beginning of the "rally" to the departure of the excursion trains there was every evidence of enthusiasm and approval.

Both Representative Slemp and United States Marshal Allen, who arranged the programme for "Virginia Day" went on record as declaring that if the rally had been held in any accessible place, 20,000 people would have been in attendance.

After the speech making was concluded Mr. and Mrs. Taft shook hands with the component parts of the "rally" for more than a half hour. The crowd came and departed in the best of humor, and from the man who came through the reception line four times with the constant demand "send me a coon dog" to the man who fervently kissed Mrs. Taft hand, there were all shades of personal expression of approval of the candidate.

Mr. Taft's speech was political throughout. Mr. Bryan's challenge, "Shall the people rule" was amply answered by the "people have ruled."

Throughout Mr. Taft was liberally applauded. The statement of Congressman Slemp on the question: "Shall the people rule?" started the applause. Mr. Slemp said:

"Can it be possible that he (Bryan) had reference to the political situation in Virginia? Does he not know that under existing laws 60 per cent. of white and 90 per cent. of the colored population of voting age have been disfranchised? Does he not know that they have no voice in the Government of either this State or this nation. And can he call this a rule of the people. No wonder Mr. Bryan will make no political speeches in the South. Conditions here do not square with his battle cry."

Colonel S. B. Allen who introduced Mr. Taft received his greatest applause when he predicted the success of the Republican ticket.

Mr. Taft's appearance was the occasion of prolonged applause. He stood before his audience fully five minutes before they would listen to his speech.

The day was ideal for the occasion.

ACTION AGAINST VENEZUELA.

Will Depend Largely Upon Reports Made to Government.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

The Hague, Aug. 21.—Holland's action against Venezuela and the text of her note to President Castro, will depend largely upon the reports of M. DeReus, former Dutch minister to Venezuela, who recently was expelled by President Castro, makes to the Government. He is expected to arrive here next Monday. M. VanSwinderne, minister of foreign affairs will consult with M. DeReus before the Government takes further steps in the matter. The ex-minister's arrival is eagerly awaited here.

The press and public of The Netherlands take the Venezuelan affair most calmly. Naval officers are most interested in it and express pleasure at the possibility of seeing active service. The Government, however, thinks there is yet a chance that the difficulty may be patched up by diplomacy.

A blockade of the Venezuelan coast, if it is undertaken will not be begun for some time because the adoption of punitive measures will depend upon the tenor of President Castro's reply to Holland's Republicans.

Petition Filed in Court By Appeals For Re-Hearing of Famous Case.

PHASES OF THE PETITION

Ask Second Trial of Case in Which Judge Landis Administered The Mammouth Fine—Filed in Chicago.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, Aug. 21.—The Government's petition for a re-hearing by the United States Court of Appeals of the case against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was filed today and represents, it is authoritatively stated, the administration's attempt to save the Elkins Act and the Inter-State Commerce law from becoming futile.

The filing of the petition marked the appearance of Attorney General Bonaparte in the case as well as that of Frank B. Kellogg, who is a special assistant to the Attorney General. Besides these two names the petition is signed by Edwin W. Sims, United States District Attorney at Chicago and Special Assistant James H. Wilkerson, both of whom presented the Government's side of the case in the original hearing before Judge Landis, who administered the famous fine of $29,240,000 against the defendant.

Although it is not specifically stated in the petition it was agreed by counsel for the Government in their conference at Lenox, Mass., following the reversal by the appellate court of Judge Landis' decision that if the interpretation of the law given by Judges Grosscup, Seaman and Baker were allowed to stand successful prosecution of rate cases against corporations would be impossible in the future. The lawyers at that conference were a unit in expressing the opinion that the reforms in rebate matters brought about by the Roosevelt administration would represent so much waste of time unless the upper court can be convinced that it is in error in its construction of the law. On but a single point involved in the trial up to the return of the verdict of guilty, says the petition," are the rulings of the trial court criticised by the court of appeals. In all other particular his rulings are sustained. The point on which the trial judge is reversed by the Court of Appeals relates to his ruling on evidence and his charge to the jury with reference to ignorance on the part of the Standard Oil Company of the lawful rate as a defense. The Court of Appeals in its opinion has not correctly stated how the judge ruled on this subject.

Continuing the petition declares that whereas the opinion of the Court of Appeals states that Judge Landis refused to admit evidence to the effect that the Standard Oil Company did not know what the lawful rate was, the record of proceedings in the lower court shows that such evidence was admitted.

Although the government points out what it considers other errors in the opinion of the appellate court, the allegation that the Standard Oil Company did know that it was not paying the legal rate is regarded as the vital point. If with the evidence introduced at the trial before Judge Landis it can be held that the defendant did not have guilty knowledge of its own acts, then successful prosecution of similar cases is regarded as impossible . All the years of legislation designed to correct rebate abuses would have to be repeated.

DYNAMITED MINERS HOME

Later Shot Him From Ambush—May Send Troops.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 21.—Anthony Davis, a negro non-union miner, whose house at Pratt City was dynamited Wednesday night, was fired upon from ambush near his home at Pratt City tonight and fatally wounded. A number of shots were fired into his body. Davis has been working steadily since the declaration of the strike and immediately after the house was dynamited claimed that he had seen and recognized the men who committed the deed.

Governor Comer has not yet decided what action to take in the matter of throwing troops into the district although great pressure has been brought to bear upon him today to augment the forces.

Apprehension of further trouble was keen all over the district.

The big mass meeting and barbecue of strikers which will be held at Lewisburg tomorrow will be made the occasion by the strike leaders of urging their men to stand firm. Among the speakers will be Vice President White of the National organization and W. R. Fairley National executive board member.

ITALIANS WERE SHOT.

When Increase in Wages Was Refused They Tried to Destroy Work.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 21.—Three Italians were shot and seriously injured today by a construction boss on the Ohio river below Wellsburg, W. Va. The Italians at work on the dam struck for an increase in wages and when their demands were refused it is said they tried to destroy parts of the completed work. One of the construction bosses opened fire on the strikers with a revolver, driving them away and wouding three of them.

CIVIC RULE IN SPRINGFIELD AGAIN

The Riotous Spirit Has Ceased and City is Free From Disorders

SOLDIERS ARE SCATTERED

Six More Alleged Riot Leaders Were Arrested Yesterday—Call For Soldier Only Twice—Warning to Negroes.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—The first day of the nominal resumption of civic rule in Springfield was free from disorders up to a late hour tonight. The members of the seventh infantry were scattered about the city in small detachments but they were under orders to act only in case their aid was solicited by the sheriff. Twice the slumber of the soldiers was disturbed, once when a small fire broke out in a shed and again when an irate father fired at an objectionable suiter for his daughter's hand. Small crowds gathered in each instance, but were quickly dispersed and later the streets deserted.

Riot Leaders Caught.

Springfield, Ills., Aug. 21.—Six more alleged riot leaders have been caught in the grand jury net here. The inquisitorial body tonight returned indictments against six persons, the documents charging twenty separate offenses. All were predicated upon the trouble at Loper's restaurant and were identical with those charged gainst Kate Howard in the indictments returned yesterday. The jury has as yet confined its work to investigating the riot at Loper's, except in the case of Abraham Raymer, who was indicted in connection with the lynching of William Donigan last Saturday. "We have only made a fair start," said Assistant State's Attorney Winston. "With the character of evidence that is coming in and the seeming determination of the grand jury to rid the community of the lawless element there is every chance that half a hundred or more indictment will be returned within the next ten days."

Three Are Indicted.

Three persons indicted today are: Ernest Humphrey, huckster, Rudolph Bredemeyer, mechanic; John Schienle, grocery clerk; William Sutton, cabman; Herbert Carrey, blacksmith and one other man whose identity was kept secret at the order of Judge Creighton because he is understood to have fled from Springfield. Humphrey, Schienle, Bredemeyer, and the fugitive were each indicted four times for malicious mischief and riot. Carey and Sutton were made the subject of two indictments each, the same offense being charged. Judge Creighton fixed the bail at $2,000 for each indictment.

Among the witnesses before the jury today was Harry Loper. He had testified at the coroner's inquest yesterday that he had little recollection of the identity of members of the mob that destroyed his establishment but it was stated tonight that he had made important revelations to the grand jury.

It was thought for a time today that the coroner's jury which has been attempting to fix responsibility for the death of Louis Johnson, who was killed in the Loper riot, would find its work vain. Coroner Woodsuff discovered that no autopsy had been made on the body and the cause of death was conjectural, one, version being that Johnson fell into the basement and broke his neck. In order to clear this doubt the coroner and a physician went to Mechanicsburg where the boy had been buried, exhumed the body and performed an autopsy which showed that he had been shot through the throat. Dr. Frank R. Wheeler presented this conclusion to the coroner's jury tonight. He testified that an undertaker had sewed up the wound and that it was impossible to determine whether the bullet entered from the front or back. He gave it as his opinion that Johnson was shot in the back because the wound there was clearer.

Warning to Negroes.

The small towns of the county continue to be danger spots. At Buffalo, a village 15 miles from here, the following notice has been posted at the interurban trolley line:

"All niggers wanted out of town by Monday, 12 A. M. sharp." It was signed by "Buffalo Sharpshooters."

Complaint also filter in daily from the mining towns, from whites and blacks alike. Each race seems distrustful of the other in these communities and Sheriff Werner is puzzled as to how to cope with the situation.

The city was guarded tonight by deputy sheriffs and police with the Seventh infantry held in reserve. There was a decrease in the number of refugees at the Arsenel tonight. The negroes were told that the proper time to re-establish themselves in their homes was while the troops are still here and this argument prevailed in many cases. In their homes few lights were shown after nightfall, absolute quiet and darkness being depended upon to deceive night prowlers as to the presence of the families.

The jury returned an open verdict, giving the cause of death as a gun shot wound after Roy Wilson had testified that he and Johnson had been pushed into the basement of the restaurant by the crowd. Wilson asserted that after they fell down the stairway he heard two shots and it was then that he lost track of Johnson. He made his way to the stand and learned that Johnson had been killed.

Loper's version of the happenings in the basement included an admission that he had shot through the door when the mob was storming the basement, but he said that he had aimed high, and that the bullet had gone through the upper panels. The bartender was also in the basement, he said. Wilson asserted that shots were fired before the doors were broken.

He also said that the shooting was done by a person who wore a "white waist." Arthur Troyman, who was wounded during the rioting on August 14, was discharged from the hospital today. Troyman is the first of those wounded by bullets to recover from his injuries. All the other injured are thought to be out of danger with the possible exception of William Bowe, a county clerk, who was shot through the body by negroes. Rolla Keys, the boy witness in the Hallam assault case, who was wounded by the accidental discharging of a companion's revolver yesterday, is now thought to have a fair chance of recovery.

Rock Candy Syr. vs. Thin People

Thin and delicate people would do well to remember that there is nothing more health-giving and tissue-building than PURE ROCK CANDY SYRUP. It is exceedingly wholesome and nutritious. Combined with the pure juices of various fruits, the combination is not only nutritious and wholesome, but very palatable.

Many people, and not a few in Wilmington, mix rock candy syrup with vanilla or some other favorite flavor and use it for eating with batter cakes, waffles and the like, and there is nothing more delicious, palatable and nutritious than such a combination for breakfast. Breakfast foods and such "fodder" are simply not in it with rock candy syrup.

Pure (absolutely so) Rock Candy Syrup can be obtained by the pint, quart, or any quantity from the
